

JANKEN RETIREMENT PLANNING

WHAT: “If you are not poor and you are not super wealthy, then Retirement Planning is by far the largest financial issue facing you today.” That observation by Glen Janken is the basis for his firm’s new specialized professional service.

According to Glen, retirement planning is having the ability to live from your savings and investments, even if you choose to continue working.

At the root of the Janken Retirement Planning service is a response to the need by individuals and couples to talk to someone. This is because so many people are experiencing a growing sense of panic about the viability of their financial future.

- How much income will my assets provide?
- Will I run out of money?
- How do I make my money safe?
- Can I save enough and still maintain a comfortable life style for myself and my family?

Glen Janken listens to these questions. He offers answers, straightforward advice and a plan. Bottom line benefits to clients: A retirement plan that reflects common sense planning, incorporates “real” numbers and makes their assets as safe as possible.

WHO: Janken Retirement Planning counsels individuals and couples on planning for retirement. It is an initiative of Glen Janken, CFP®, CLU®, Estate & Financial Planning, of Beverly Hills, California, an outgrowth of the successful planning practice he started in 1985. During that period he has helped hundreds of clients develop “A Plan for Life, Steady Growth and Security.”

HOW: Glen Janken personally developed the Janken Retirement Planning process. He supervises its implementation and serves as an advisor to individuals and couples who want to plan for retirement. The resulting retirement plan reflects extensive research and review of client assets and goals by the Janken Retirement Planning staff.
